Can't see the forest for the trees?

New Yorkers wouldn't be caught dead sightseeing on the Empire State Building. Washington folks never visit Mount Vernon. Atlantans seldom see the Cyclorama. Augustans, I'm afraid, are out of the same cloth.

Merry has visitors from many foreign lands, as far away as New Zealand and Australia, who come to study first hand our modern handling and burning methods. Most folks here think of us as home made and therefore must be like any other brickyard.
